- To care for the young, the old, the sick, the hurting and the needy, both inside and outside our parish.

- To welcome back, with hospitality, those who have left our faith community.

To make a pledge please pick up a Pledge card which is available in the gathering space and at the entrances to the Church and mail in or drop off at the parish office.

Planning Ahead: As you pack away your winter clothing and pull out your spring things please keep in mind the

Children's Home Clothing Drive,
May 21st/22nd

Mercy Works for April: Give Drink to the Thirsty

According to a recent study, young children in 11 cities and two counties in NJ have higher levels of lead in their blood than children in Flint, Michigan, where a water contamination crisis has been in the national news recently. It's easy for us to take access to clean water for granted. During this month of the Jubilee of Mercy, learn what it means to practice the corporal work of mercy, "give drink to the thirsty" in the world today. Visit www.camdendiocese.org/mercy for videos, activities and more facts about water access.

Total Parish Collection for April 17, 2016 was $8,628.00 and 185 donors were recorded. As always, thank you for your generosity to our parish.

Stewardship Reflection: 5th Sunday of Easter: Stewards Share Their Love

"I give you a new commandment: love one another. As I have loved you, you also should love one another"
John 13: 34

It is easy to love someone when they love us back. But it takes courage for Stewards to love someone when we feel unappreciated, used or feel our opinion doesn't matter. It takes courage to "love my neighbor" when he may be someone I don't like, someone I don't know or someone who doesn't look like me.

Mystery and Manners

For her stories and novels, Flannery O'Connor won three O. Henry Awards, and her collected writings won the National Book Award. But I've stolen my title from a collection of her non-fiction writings, entitled Mystery and Manners. O'Connor was a southerner, so she was mighty interested in manners. And she was a devout Catholic Christian, so she had a deep sensitivity to the mystery of life under the judgment and mercy of God. I feel pretty sure that the late Miss O'Connor (she died in her late 30's in 1964) would not mind my stealing her title to introduce some thoughts about reverence at the mass.

Manners are about how we act in the presence of others, showing our respect, or lack of respect for the presence of others. Manners (good or bad) are deeply seeded in us. It is hard to fake good manners. People who have deep respect for others, who take the presence of the other seriously, do not need to contrive good manners. They just naturally act in a way that acknowledges the dignity of the other. If I am well mannered when a V.I.P. is in the room but ill mannered to the person who serves tables at the restaurant, my sense of self must be pretty unstable.

In the mass, the first person with whom we are concerned is Jesus Christ himself. The crucified and risen Christ has chosen to be truly present to us, intimately present—present in his Word, bodily present in the form of bread and wine. And then, of course, there are the others around us who have been drawn by faith to be present. In the light of this great Mystery, a living faith will naturally instill in the faithful a deep-seated “holy courtesy” toward Christ and those he has called together at the mass.

This point leads me to a few straightforward words about liturgical manners in our Sunday masses.

Arriving on time reflects our respect for the sacred mysteries we celebrate. To be present and seated in the Church before the Liturgy begins is, in a sense, our first act of adoration, and of respect for others. Unexpected developments now and then make this impossible. But let's be honest. Too many arrive late.

Present and seated and praying in the church. Important moments require inward preparation. The actor about to go on stage, the executive before a crucial meeting, even the athlete before the game instinctively observe a few moments of silence for “gathering” themselves (On game day, the rule for my high school football team was two hours of silence before boarding the bus for the stadium—my first introduction to meditation!) Many in our parish come early to pray quietly before mass in the church. It is a simple point of respect to refrain from distracting them. Loud laughter, chatting with friends, sharing jokes are all natural and happy human exchanges, but not in the few minutes before the mass begins

Remaining until the mass concludes with the final blessing and exit of the liturgical ministers is good liturgical manners (emergencies and urgent obligations aside). There is an apparent misunderstanding here that needs to be addressed. The rite of Holy Communion does not end when the Eucharistic body is reposed in the tabernacle. If you leave the church at that point, you are leaving during Holy Communion. The Communion rite itself ends with the prayer spoken by the celebrant, thanking God for the Sacrament.

Surely we want to avoid the sort of “minimalism” that regards receiving the Lord’s Body as an obligation to be dispensed with as quickly as possible. Holy manners require a little holy leisure for the sake of our holy courtesy to our Lord Jesus Christ.

FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER, APRIL 24, 2016

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Sixth Sunday of Easter, May 1, 2016 - John 14:23-29

Jesus said to his disciples: "Whoever loves me will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him... The Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. Not as the world gives peace do I give it to you. Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid."

Commentary:

Jesus tells his disciples that his peace is different. How different? Jesus' peace is everlasting. Compared with global diplomatic relations, which tend to fall apart in a generation or less, Jesus' everlasting peace is good news. Christ's peace is not contingent on anything that the world attempts to offer us in the guise of peace. The peace that Jesus gives comes clean, free, and permanent, with no strings attached. It is a peace that doesn't crumble on contact when the troubles of this world crowd in. St. Paul called Jesus' peace "a peace which passes understanding." (Philippians 4:7)

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Commentary resonates with me?

Instead of trying to legalize the killing of patients in pain and depression, we should be making sure that doctors are taught, and use, effective pain management and to treat the depression which makes the person suicidal in the first place.

*Al Mac Elrath, Respect Life Coordinator
779-7130*

Collection for Catholic Elementary Schools

Next weekend, the second collection will benefit the Catholic Elementary Schools of the Diocese as well as the families looking to make Catholic education a possibility for their children. #### Knights of Columbus Cherry Hill Council 6173 Membership Drive

Knights will be available to answer your questions regarding membership. Sign-ups will be held in the Gathering Space after all Masses next weekend April 30/ May 1.

St. Thomas More Parish Prayer Line

We will forward your intention to the Prayer Chain, a ministry of members of St. Thomas More Church who pray for your prayer requests. All requests are kept confidential.

Diocesan Wedding Anniversary Mass
