Stewardship Reflection: 15th Sunday in Ordinary Time—Stewards Love Neighbors

“Jesus said to him, ‘go and do likewise.’” Luke 10: 37b

This was Jesus' command at the end of the Good Samaritan story. But did you know that the Samaritans and Jews despised each other. The Stewardship moral of the story is to love our neighbor, who may be someone you don't know, someone who looks different than you or someone you don't like, without expecting anything in return.

The Catholic Faith In Slow Motion (No.81)

Fr. Phillip Johnson

A series of reflections about professing, praying, thinking, and living the Faith of the Church

The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick

“Is anyone among you sick? He should summon the presbyters of the church, and they should pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord . . . and the Lord will raise him up. If he has committed any sins, he will be forgiven.” (James 5:14-15).

We ought to think of the seven sacraments, not so much in terms of a list, but rather as a seven-fold outpouring of God's saving grace, flowing from the self-offering of Christ. For each sacrament upholds, interprets, and fulfills the others. For example, the Catechism of the Catholic Church, citing the Scripture passage above, treats the Sacrament of Reconciliation and the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick under a single title: “The Sacraments of Healing” (CCC par. 1420 ff.). For “the Lord Jesus Christ, physician of our souls and bodies, who forgave the sins of the paralytic and restored him to bodily health [Mark 2:1-12] has willed that his Church continue, in the power of the Holy Spirit, his work of healing and salvation, even among her own members. This is the purpose of the two sacraments of healing . . .”.

In Holy Scripture sickness serves as a kind of parable of sin, and Christ's power to heal announces his power to forgive. His healing miracles prophesy our final healing in the resurrection of the body—a healing won for us by the grace of God's forgiveness of our sins. This inexplicable, but real, relation of sin and sickness helps us to understand why it is that, for better or for worse, serious illness so readily raises the question of faith.

Illness and suffering have always been among the greatest problems confronted in human life. In illness, man experiences his powerlessness, his limitations, and his finitude. Every illness can make us glimpse death. Illness can lead to anguish, self-absorption, sometimes even despair and revolt against God. It can also make a person more mature, helping him discern in his life what is not essential so that he can turn toward that which is. Very often illness provokes a search for God and a return to him (CCC par. 1500-1501).

Through the Sacrament of Anointing, the threat of serious illness is transformed into the awareness of God's saving presence, as we learn the meaning of St. Paul's claim: “When I am weak, then I am strong” (2 Cor. 12:10).

The practice of anointing the sick with blessed oils goes back to the time of the apostles. Through the centuries it was conferred more and more upon those who were at the point of death. This explains the term familiar to previous generations, “Extreme Unction”. But in recent years the Church has revived the most ancient practice. Following the Second Vatican Council, Pope Paul VI formally declared that the anointing of the sick “is not a sacrament for those only who are at the point of death,” so that “as soon as anyone of the faithful begins to be in danger of death from sickness or old age, the fitting time for him to receive this sacrament has certainly already arrived” (quoted in CCC par. 1514). In an extended illness, or in recurring serious illnesses, the sacrament may be repeated, and preparation for surgery is also an especially appropriate time for anointing (CCC par. 1515).

During a healing mass or in a hospital room, at a bedside at home, or in a private meeting with a priest—with the reading of the Word and with prayers for forgiveness and the laying of hands—the sacrament may be administered. “Through this holy anointing may the Lord in his love and mercy help you with the grace of the Holy Spirit. May the Lord who frees you from sin save you and raise you up.” And healing will be granted, perhaps dramatically, perhaps less so, perhaps in hidden graces, perhaps in new strength to endure. Healing will be granted.

STM Youth

What is Youth Group?

STM Youth Group encourages teens to get involved in parish life and empowers teens to build their relationship with Jesus by taking part in service, social and spiritual activities at St. Thomas More, the Diocese and the larger community.

STM Youth has events from September through May. Please keep an eye out for emails and bulletin announcements about STM Youth activities for 2016-2017.

Do you need Service and Leadership?

STM Youth is in need of 9th—12th graders to be part of the STM Youth Leadership Team. The STM Youth Leadership Team requires a time commitment of 2 -4 4 hours a month.

Youth Leaders are a liaison between their peers and the Youth Ministry Coordinator. They will represent the voices and the concerns of their peers and help to come up with creative ways for those needs to be met. Youth Leaders will have an active role in youth gatherings, leading ice breakers and activities, or helping with behind-the-scenes planning and creative projects. Youth leaders will have lessons in leadership and Christian discipleship during the year.

FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME JULY 10, 2016

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, July 17, 2016 - Luke 10:38-42

“Jesus entered a village where a woman whose name was Martha welcomed him. She had a sister named Mary who sat beside the Lord at his feet listening to him speak. Martha, burdened with much serving, came to him and said, ‘Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me by myself to do the serving? Tell her to help me.’ The Lord said to her in reply, ‘Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her.’”

Commentary:

Many of us look at Martha's behavior as “normal and worldly,” while Mary's as “special and spiritual.” However, there was nothing “normal” about Martha! First of all, she welcomed Jesus into her home; no typical woman of first-century Israel would take the initiative to speak to a man, much less invite him to “her” home. Since Martha and Mary lived with their brother, he would be the obvious head of the household, even if he were much younger than his sisters. Astonishingly, Lazarus is not home to host or chaperone this event. Mary may have chosen “the better part,” but Martha's role was equally bold and unconventional.

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Commentary resonates with me?

The Nazis were responsible for the deaths of 50 million people as a result of their quest for world domination. Since 1973 the US has killed 50 million innocent babies by surgical abortion. Through chemical abortions the death toll increases another 14 million babies per year. Are we any better than they?

Six Ways I Can Make My Parish Better

Fifth in a series

5. Support your parish financially. You know how expensive it is to run your own home. Parishes face even higher costs—and depend on parishioners to help meet them. Take a serious look at the money you give to your parish every week. Do you increase your contributions each year as the cost of living rises?

Giving to the church is more than just a financial obligation. Once you recognize that everything you have is a gift from God, you see that giving generously to continue God's work in the parish is an essential part of your spirituality.

“Give, and it will be given to you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, will be put into your lap.” Luke 6:38
