or given to Lois Udicious.

Thank you in advance for your participation

There is no report on the collection for December 16th, because this bulletin went to press before the weekend.

“... if My people, who are called by My Name, are sorry for what they have done, if they pray and obey me and stop their evil ways, I will heal their land.”
2nd Chronicles 7: 14

Stewardship Quotes:

1. When a person becomes rich, either God gains a partner, or the person loses a soul.
2. If a person gets his attitude toward money straight, it will help straighten out almost every other area in his life. (Billy Graham)
3. One of the greatest teachings missing in the American church today is the reminder to men and women that nothing we have belongs to us. (George MacDonald, American pastor and teacher).
4. The good man's earnings advance the cause of righteousness. The evil man squanders on his sin. (Proverbs 10:16)
5. Instead of teaching us how to do more (time management) the Bible calls each of us to do less, and consequently to receive peace and rest with God (time stewardship). Reversing time-warped living is about restoring our relationship with the Time Giver...By doing less, we can have more of God. (Steve Granger)

The Sanctification of Time

As we experience it, not all time is the same. We all know this well enough. One hour may grind on so slowly we fear it will never end. Another hour may fly by in what seems but a moment. It depends on what fills the hour. Not all days and dates are equal in importance, which is why we celebrate anniversaries. The date “9-11” is now seared in the memories of Americans; it would seem a sacrilege to forget to mark the day. Not all days are equal. Your birthday is like no other day, and it ought to be joyfully remembered.

As the Church marks the passing of time, certain days and seasons are especially infused with meaning. All time, of course, can be made holy, as it is received as a gift from the Creator. But some days and seasons have been so filled up with God’s saving work that they are dense with holiness. Sunday, for example—the day in which time itself was redeemed by being filled with the presence of the risen Jesus.

Christians keep time sacramentally. We worship, not according to the seasons of the moon, but according to the days and events that marked the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus. Things are now changing in our culture. “Anno Domini” (A.D.) is being abandoned for “Common Era” (C.E.). Maybe our children’s children’s children will learn a calendar that no longer count years from “The Year of Our Lord.” But Christians can never forget that Christ’s birth at Bethlehem was not only epoch-making, it was, as Dorothy Sayers said, “like a thunderbolt and split time into two halves.”

The Christian shares with all others the passage of time, and the passage of time leads to change and death. If we are to understand the frantic quality of modern life, we must discern the fear and dread with which human beings, caught in the race against death, fear time. In his Mediations on Liturgy, the Cistercian monk Thomas Merton has written about the anxiety of the “modern pagan,” the “child of technology,” who “lives not only below the level of grace, but below the level of nature—below his own humanity. . . . In such a world, a man’s life is no longer even a seasonal cycle. It’s a linear flight into nothingness, a flight from reality and from God, without purpose. . . except to keep moving, to keep from having to face reality” (p. 31).

In the Christian liturgical cycle, we are taken up into a new rhythm of life in which time is no longer the enemy. Christ has “tamed” time in his conquest of human death. In Christ, time is no longer simply a passing; it is filled with the spirit of pilgrimage. Time is no longer the thief that steals away our happiness; it is a herald announcing the approach of a destination. “Jesus has made this ebb and flow of light and darkness, activity and rest, birth and death, the sign of a higher life, a life which we live in him, a life which knows no decline, and a day which does not fall into darkness” (Merton, p. 29).

As sacramental time-keepers, we remember that Christmas (Christmass) is not a day but a season. Let’s not allow the holy days to fly by unclaimed.

Convocation of Catholic Leaders

The Joy of the Gospel in South Jersey

Recognizing the gifts God has given to the laity, Bishop Sullivan has called on pastors to form lay delegations to be sent to a four-day convocation aimed at building up missionary disciples to create stronger communities. The Convocation of Catholic Lay Leaders: The Joy of the Gospel in South Jersey, to be held March, 2019, will give the 650+ lay leaders the tools to foster a sense of discipleship not only in their parishes but in the larger community. Please pray for these pastors and lay people that the Holy Spirit enables them to return to their parishes renewed and ready to lead others to Jesus, the Joy of the Gospel.

FOURTH SUNDAY OF ADVENT, DECEMBER 23, 2018

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph, Dec. 30, 2018 - Mt 2:13-15, 19-23

“An angel appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, ‘Rise, take the child and his mother, flee to Egypt, and stay there until I tell you. Herod is going to search for the child to destroy him.’ Joseph rose and took the child and his mother by night and departed for Egypt. He stayed there until the death of Herod, that what the Lord had said through the prophet might be fulfilled, Out of Egypt I called my son.”

Commentary:

Joseph couldn't be expected to raise his child and tend his family in an environment of danger and hostility like the one Herod's reign created. A good family must be nurtured and sustained in an atmosphere of love and security. If that meant becoming refugees in a foreign land, so be it. Today, millions of families around the world have been forced to make the same choice because of hostile governments, crumbling economies, and the lack of freedom to pursue their own beliefs and values. In this land of freedom and opportunity, we have the chance to welcome these families or to share our goods and support with them as they make their way to a better future. It would have been tragic if Joseph had taken his family all the way to Egypt, only to find the doors barred against him.

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Reflection resonates with me?

Pro-Life Corner: “The mystery of the Incarnation reveals the specific value of the dignity of human life. God gave us this gift and sanctified it when the Son became man and was born of Mary. Life is a gift that must be protected, from conception until natural death. With all my heart I join people involved in various activities aimed at respecting life and promoting a new social awareness.” Pope Benedict XVI. Choose the culture of life.

Special Collections for 2019

In response to ongoing concerns expressed regarding the number of mandatory collections takes each year, the Diocese will be conducting an experiment to see if the number of National Collections can be reduced. The proposal is to combine collections of a similar nature and purpose. Throughout 2019, the Diocese will be monitoring the results. It is the hope and expectation of the Diocesan Offices that by combining collections, some of the burden and concerns will be reduced without a detrimental impact on the amount of needed funds collected for these important purposes.

The Georgian Institute How to Pray a Holy Hour (continued)

There is no one way to pray a holy hour. The following might help if you get lost in the hour, but feel free to reconfigure it to suit your needs. (More to come next week)

1. Next ten minutes: Offer reparation. It is not your love for God, but His for you that saves. Examine your conscience. Offer reparation for the sins of the world. Pray: “Oh my Jesus, I am so sorry. Forgive me.”
2. Next fifteen minutes: Contemplate God's action. You may wish to meditatively pray the Stations of the Cross or a Rosary. Or: Scriptural meditation. Read a brief Gospel passage. Imagine the scene. Notice Christ's reactions. Think of three ways the passage applies to your own life. Meditate on each line.

Adoration takes place in the Chapel every Friday from 9:30 am—12 noon.
All are welcome!

2019 Calendars are available at the doors of the Church. All are encouraged to take calendars as needed.
